MEMPHIS:
Saturday Evening, August 6, 1870.

Mr. Thomas Tardew, of New York City, is authorized to act as Northern advertising agent of the Public Ledger.

S. H. Parvin, General Advertising Agent, Cincinnati, Ohio, is our only authorized agent to contract for advertisements.

Hudson, Menet & Gay, 133 Dearborn street, at Barnhart, Bros. & Co., 74 Madison street, Chicago, will contract for advertisements for this paper.

ORGANIZATION.

The canvass for Judges having ended, it is now important to secure the election of a Democratic Governor and Legislature, with members of Congress of the same political faith from each of the districts in the State, who will fairly and correctly represent our people in the new Congress, to assemble after the fourth of March next. We can succeed in our designs only by a thorough organization of the party, and upon a basis that extends an inviting aspect to all classes of the community. Men may quibble about mere names, but after all, this must cease and give place to the more important consideration of that policy and those principles which pertain to our liberties and existence as a people. To be enabled to act more effectively, we must form ourselves into a compact mass to oppose Radicalism. And to this end, it is generally agreed that a State Convention should be called to meet in Nashville about the first of September, the business of which will be to nominate a candidate for Governor, and adopt resolutions as a platform of principles to which we may all give our consent. We have our own settled convictions of what these resolutions should be, but will not refuse to support the candidate nominated, if there should be a slight departure in the agreement made from such ideas entertained beforehand. We should meet as one people, having a great common interest to subserve, and in the spirit of compromise and concession to prejudices of long standing. As to the course the Southern people ought to pursue at this period of change in the Constitution and almost form of our government, is not easily ascertained, and should be earnestly considered before being adopted with the intention of being carried out. The first work to be done is to put our foot on Radicalism, as a viper that has already poisoned our entire system. When this has been thoroughly accomplished, then we may with some propriety prate about smaller differences of opinion, and agree among ourselves to run candidates upon the most approved platform of governmental policy. But, in Heaven's name, let us keep together until the battle of the Constitution has been fought and won, and with commendable zeal we may then enter upon a new and more inviting field. West Tennessee is united for the Democratic platform, and is ready and willing to look shoulders with the party of that name North in the grand national contest to come off in 1872. When we shall meet from the various sections of this State in September, to make a nomination for Governor, it will then be time to harmonize the conflicting ideas of those who prefer to call themselves Conservatives, and the majority of that element who, since the war, have put on the name of Democrat and now propose to wear it as a badge of distinction from that other party who call themselves Republicans.

TIMELY REMINDER.

There are a number of persons in Memphis to whom this forcible language of the Cincinnati Enquirer will apply. Some are in the Radical ranks, and others might as well be there, from non-action. Speaking of such as condemn the conduct of those who administer the Government at Washington, the Enquirer says:

They have apparently lacked the courage to act according to their honest convictions. They have allowed their votes to be swayed by a foolish prejudice of the past against the Democratic party—a prejudice the unreasonableness and folly of which cannot be overestimated. There are thousands and tens of thousands of men who have been voting for the last six years against their better judgments, merely by the force of old associations and party relations. It is high time these men awoke from this dishonorable course and took a position more manly and honest. It is high time they became more patriotic and less partisan, and were willing to save the country even if it involved an instrumentalism against which they had a prejudice.

A Conservative Convention is to be held at Clarendon, Monroe county, Arkansas, the 6th day of August (to-day) for the purpose of sending delegates to the Congressional Convention at Des Arc, on the 10th of August.

The Congressional Canvass.

To the Editor of the Ledger:
There have been many articles in the press of the city, advertising the claims of certain distinguished gentlemen for Congressional honors in this district. Among the most acceptable, we believe, are our fellow-citizen Captain A. T. Lacey. We have no Democrat in the political arena who is eligible, has the prestige in the past of so thorough conversance with parliamentary law, so much experience as a debater, or who would make a more useful member of Congress than Captain Lacey. He is an eminent merchant, of a very high order of talent, thoroughly acquainted with the wants of the people of West Tennessee, and who will meet the most sanguine expectations of the Democracy of this district. We believe that few men have more purity of character, few more ability to protect those interests that are so important to the prosperity of this section, than this distinguished gentleman. He can take his seat beyond question. Shelby county claims him, but that should not militate against him. Our country friends will remember that we made no contest against the nominations of Gen. Jno. L. T. Sneed and Col. Thos. J. Freeman for Judges of the Supreme Court for the Western division of the State on account of non-residence in our limit. They should be equally as generous, and we believe they will be. No far as we can learn Capt. Lacey and W. W. Vaughn Esq., of Haywood county, will be the most prominent before the Democratic convention for the nomination. The contest is certainly narrowing down to this point. Mr. Vaughn is a quiet citizen of irreproachable character. His friends claim for him considerable ability, which we do not gainsay. Conceding all this, Capt. Lacey stands as his equal, and the latter's great experience in legislative bodies strongly urges his preference before the people as our next Democratic representative in Congress. With this trusted citizen on the ticket, Shelby county will roll up a party majority next November even larger than the one just hurled upon Radicals and Radicalism in our midst.

We publish with pleasure the above communication, written by a friend of Captain Lacey, and recommend the gentleman named to the favorable consideration of the Democratic party of this district. If Captain Lacey should receive the nomination for Congress he would make a good run, and when elected would reflect honor upon his constituents of the Eighth District.

The people of Lafayette county, Arkansas, are organizing in earnest for the November contest. At a meeting at Lewisville, on the 16th ult., a county central committee was appointed, and among others this resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That no political party can accomplish a successful campaign without organization and concert of action; and to the end that we may accomplish that, we hereby pledge ourselves to do all in our power to concentrate the honest yeomanry and the tax-payers in our party, for the purpose of electing men to office who oppose the tyranny, extravagance and proscriptive of the Radical party, and who will establish a code of laws recognizing for all men those inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, as enunciated by the founders of the United States government.

The Paris Examiner, a large, handsome, well-filled newspaper published at Paris, Texas, has just concluded its first year. It is healthy with advertisements, and is very neatly printed. Its political bearing may be guessed from this:

The great National Democratic party is the only political organization we can now look to for relief from the tormenting evils that are upon us. The time has come when every man in this country must act either with the Republican or Democratic party, and since the former has so clearly shown its hand, there can no longer be a middle ground.

The Chattanooga Times of the 28th ult. says in relation to a matter of river improvement:

We are at a loss to know why the French Broad river is so often mentioned in connection with the Cumberland, and we do not know what is to be obtained by the survey of the French Broad, unless the Tennessee is to be improved between this city and Knoxville, just above which the French Broad empties into the Holston.

We are afraid Congress has got things mixed. The Harrison Advocate, of Boone county, Arkansas, thus describes a remarkable stream that tunnels White river:

Crooked creek, which rises in the southern part of the county, and pursues a course of some sixty miles through our most fertile valleys, disappears from view on the south side of White river, to reappear on the north side, where it empties into that river. We do not believe another such curiosity can be seen in the world.

The ladies are all grieving about the war in Europe, as it will raise the price of silk dresses, gloves and lace.

New York physicians claim that soda water is largely responsible for the great number of sudden deaths this hot weather.

The Crispins will be gratified to know that the bones of fifteen hundred Chinamen have just been sent home from San Francisco.

A grand "secret caucus" of Irish leaders was held in New York Wednesday evening, and they printed a full report of their proceedings the next morning.

Irritating the feelings—After rolling all night in your berth at sea till you are miserably sick, to have a steward ask you in the morning if you will have a fresh roll for breakfast.

The Providence Press states that different parties in that State, employing a large number of men, are all ready to put on Chinese laborers as soon as they can be procured.

About a hundred citizens of St. Louis have completed arrangements for the introduction of Chinese laborers into their families. The necessary negotiations have been consummated with the Chinese Emigration Society in San Francisco, and the first installment of Chinese for St. Louis will number about three hundred.

Some singular facts concerning the different stimulants used by emigrants are given by an English writer, Dr. F. C. H. "Pharmacology." Hobbes drank cold water when he was desirous of making a strong intellectual effort. Newton smoked, Bonaparte took snuff, Pope strong coffee, Byron gin and water. Wedderburn, the first Lord Ashburton, always placed a blister on his chest when he had to make a great speech.

The Memphis, Holly Springs, Okla. and Selma Railroad Company.
MEMPHIS, August 5, 1870.
To the People of Shelby County:
By an order of the County Court of Shelby county, made at its last regular session, the popular vote of the county was to be taken in favor of or against a subscription of $500,000 of the capital stock in the Memphis, Holly Springs, Okla. and Selma Railroad Company, and the day fixed for this vote to be taken was the fourth Saturday in August inst. Important business in New York and Alabama has put it out of my power at an earlier day than the present to be here. Before this vote is taken, I deem it both necessary and proper to canvass the county and explain to the people the great importance of the road to the people of the county of Shelby. The time now left is too short to do this, and I therefore desire this election suspended until in November, when the time will be again advertised and the vote taken.

Respectfully,
N. B. FORBES, President.
City papers having the election notice will discontinue it and give this notice in insertion, and send bill to Harris & Phipps, 121 N. 2d St., Memphis, Tenn.

NEW YORK.

President Grant and Neutrality—Proclamation Soon to be Issued—Minister Frelinghuysen.

NEW YORK, August 6.—A special from Washington says the President is not fully determined what he will do about issuing a proclamation of neutrality between France and Prussia. In conversation with persons at Long Branch, he said he thought he would not issue one at present, as there did not seem to be an occasion or necessity for it; but in the course of conversation to-day he indicated it as not settled just what shall be done in the premises.

He has received Napoleon's official proclamation of war. A notable sentence in it is that the Emperor avows it as his purpose not only to protect the honor and dignity of France, but to maintain the political equilibrium of Europe. The President says he thinks the war will likely enough be a long one, and not without material advantages to our country to set off against its disadvantages.

The French Minister has issued a proclamation of neutrality. Official notification of the war between France and Prussia having been received, and the fact made known to the President, he has determined to issue a proclamation of neutrality, and says he will promulgate this order of neutrality when he returns from St. Louis. The proclamation will particularly explain the neutrality laws, so they may be fully understood by the people.

The President replied to a question in relation to Frelinghuysen, that he would probably leave for Europe the latter part of August; he had accepted the appointment, and his instructions, although not yet prepared in form, were understood by Frelinghuysen and would doubtless be carried out so far as possible. He said: "I feel confident Frelinghuysen is in perfect accord with the Government and will do his best in the discharge of his important duties in connection with the Alabama claims."

With reference to the war, the President agrees with Akerman, that it will be long and exhausting, with a strong probability that both parties will come out defeated.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Life Sustaining Principle. The vital and muscular systems are entirely distinct from each other. A man may have the brawn of a Hercules, but if he is deficient in vital energy he will not wear as well, or last as long, or be as healthy and happy while he does last, as the man of ordinary or even slender build, who possesses a larger share of this animating principle. One of the greatest recommendations of that purely vegetable invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is that it increases the vital force of the system. No medicine can double the volume of a man's muscles, or thicken and vitalize his blood and sinews; but Hostetter's Bitters has an effect much more important. It uses promotes constitutional vigor. It reinforces the life-power, a which bone and sinew and muscle are merely the instruments, holding the same relation to it that machinery does to steam. Let the slight and apparently fragile heart heart, they may have more stamina, though far less physical strength, than the broad-shouldered athletes they regard with envy. To restore, to sustain, to increase this vital principle which, when in full supply, is the source of health and the best guarantee of longevity, is a special property of the famous restorative. It is not only a specific for dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers, constipation, etc., and a preventive of all diseases of a malarious character, but the best of all medicines for strengthening the constitution and awakening the powers of nature, from whatever cause they may have become lethargic.
